

Sage Products – Recall of oral care products

- On August 23, 2017, Sage Products announced a voluntary, consumer-level recall of specific lots of several oral care products due to the potential for cross-contamination of oral care solutions from equipment shared with non-pharmaceutical products.
 - The recall affects all oral care products containing solutions manufactured by a third party supplier.
 - Images of the recalled products can be found here.
 - These products were distributed between July 2015 and August 2017.
- The recalled products have oral care-related indications such as removal of debris and secretions to reduce the chance of infection in minor oral irritations. Refer to the products' drug labels for more information.
- Contact Sage customer service at 1-800-490-6493 for more information regarding this recall.
